Summary

I have a love of Web Development and IT in general that I bring to all my work. I am meticulous and am always learning more about my field to both stay current and to expand on my skills. I have about 3 years of experience working in this field plus a couple more years setting up websites and doing programming while I was learning. I have a real love of IT and Web Development. I find the whole field endlessly fascinating. I have a problem-solving attitude so bring on your problems.
